Purpose

The purpose of this priority is to increase the number and improve the quality of personnel, including multilingual personnel and personnel from racially and ethnically diverse backgrounds, who are fully credentialed to serve children with disabilities.

The Department will fund projects within HBCUs, TCCUs, and other MSIs that prepare special education, early intervention, and related services personnel at the bachelor’s degree, certification, master’s degree, educational specialist degree, or clinical doctoral degree levels to serve in a variety of settings, including natural environments (the home and community settings in which children with and without disabilities participate), early learning programs, child care, classrooms, schools, and distance learning.

Absolute Priority: Preparation of Special Education, Early Intervention, and Related Services Personnel at HBCUs, TCCUs, and other MSIs.

The purpose of the Personnel Development Program is to prepare scholars in early intervention, special education, and related services. This includes recruiting and providing financial support for scholars.

Recruitment

- Applicants must describe the recruitment strategies they will use to attract applicants, including the focused outreach and recruitment strategies to increase the number of applicants from groups that are traditionally underrepresented in the field, including applicants with disabilities, multilingual applicants, and applicants from racially and ethnically diverse backgrounds.

- The selection criteria the applicant intends to use must ensure equal access and treatment of all applicants seeking admission to the program and must be consistent with applicable law, including Federal civil rights law.

Support

- At least 65 percent of the total award over the project period must be used for scholar support.

- Scholar support does not need to be uniform for all scholars and should be customized for individual scholars based on scholars’ financial needs.

- Scholar support can include support for cost of attendance (i.e., tuition and fees; university student health insurance; an allowance for books, materials, and supplies; an allowance for miscellaneous personal expenses; an allowance for dependent care, such as child care; and/or an allowance for room and board), travel in conjunction with training assignments including conference registration, and stipends to support scholars’ completion of the program.
The preparation of scholars in this program includes: optional planning time; designing the program so scholars learn how to provide evidence-based culturally and linguistically responsive instruction, interventions, and services that improve outcomes for children with disabilities; offering field or clinical experiences; and providing resources to complete degrees.

Planning Time
Applicants may, but are not required to, use up to 12 months of the first performance period and up to $100,000 of funds awarded in the first budget period for program planning, including enhancing an existing degree program, without enrolling scholars.

Program Design
Applicants should ensure that the program is designed to prepare scholars to serve children with disabilities.

Offer Experiences
Applicants should also ensure the program offers field or clinical experiences aligned to course work in early intervention, early childhood, and school settings.

Provide Resources
Applicants should also ensure that scholars be provided the resources they need to complete their degree.
The application will be awarded based on applicants responding to the absolute priority requirements, one optional competitive preference priority, and five selection criteria, described below.

Applications from New Potential Grantees
Under this priority, an applicant must demonstrate that the applicant (e.g., the IHE) has not had an active discretionary grant under the program from which it seeks funds, in the last five years. (0 or 3 points)
